

Pedestrian Bridge Detour on Shelby Bottoms Greenway

Update [July 2019]: Due to public safety concerns, Pedestrian Bridge #5 on the Shelby Bottoms Greenway near the Shadow Lane Connector Trail remains temporarily closed due to structural damage and erosion of river embankments sustained from flooding earlier this Spring. Engineers have completed their inspection and analysis of the bridge and abutment damage and have determined that the sustainable course of action is to relocate the bridge further away from the river and to realign the paved trail accordingly. The permitting process for this project is underway, final design should be complete by early August with construction starting in September.

The detour trail around the bridge closure onto the unpaved Raccoon Den Trail remains open. Be advised that you may encounter wet trail conditions.
